Russia Sends More Arms to Reds in Laos

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said today the situation in Laos is "still delicate," dangerous and a long way from settled.

He described it to reporters in this fashion as Secretary of State Dean Rusk met with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee behind closed doors for a detailed report on Laos and other trouble spots.

Mansfield, a member of the committee, said reports that the Soviet Union has increased its airlift of arms to rebel forces in Laos means the situation is "far far away from the negotiations stage."

"I believe there is a Chinese Communist hand in there," he said. "The holdup in a cease-fire may be due to the possibility that the Soviet Union must get the approval of Peking."

Mansfield said the responsibility on President Kennedy "instead of diminishing, is now increasing."

"I call upon all of us," he said, "to stand firm behind the President and avoid criticism in this dangerous and difficult area."

Official sources reported the Soviet airlift has been "greatly increased" in the last few days. These sources said Monday night they were unable to explain the stepped up activity but commented "it is not a positive response to the British request for a cease-fire."

In fact, American officials interpreted the accelerated airlift as more of a rebuff to the British proposal which carries U.S. backing. The proposal called for an immediate cease-fire followed by an international conference on the Laos crisis.

U.S. officials said an effort will be made to learn the exact "arithmetic" of the increased Soviet aid. They said, however, that there has been no increase in the flow of U.S. arms to the royal Lao army.

Reports reaching the State Department in the last few days have stressed that no large-scale fighting is under way in the tiny Asian kingdom.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk briefs the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today on the Laos situation.

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., said the crisis in Laos is top on the agenda of a closed-door briefing Rusk will give the committee, his first since the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization meeting in Bangkok.

"But I expect he will bring us up to date on the crisis in the Congo, the new threats in Viet Nam and other developments around the world," Sparkman, acting chairman, told a newsman.

The State Department formally announced that Prince Souvanna Phouma of Laos has been invited to visit the United States in a private capacity to discuss the Laotian situation with President Kennedy.

The former premier is recognized by the Soviet Union as the head of the legal government of Laos, but is not recognized by the United States. He is expected to hold three days of talks here later this month.

Dynamite Explodes in Man's Hand

OZARK, Ark. (AP) — A Franklin County coal miner, Jimmy R. Burns, 27, was seriously injured Monday when a stick of dynamite exploded in his hand.
His right hand was shattered and he suffered other cuts and burns. A companion, Victor Paul Highfield, 24, of Altus, sustained powder burns and other injuries.

Algeria Rebels Get Assurance of DeGaulle

By GODFREY ANDERSON

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle said today France is ready to discuss the future of Algeria with various sections of the Algerian population — "notably with the forces of the rebellion."

This was an apparent effort to assure the rebel regime in Tunis that De Gaulle would deal primarily with it in negotiating an end to the war.

It was the rebel regime's insistence that it alone represent the Algerian masses that caused a breakdown in attempts to open peace talks in France last week.

However, De Gaulle expressed doubt that the Algerian revolutionary leaders are capable of taking positive steps to negotiate peace.

Cuban Rebels Have Castro Uneasy Again

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

HAVANA (AP) — Amid reliable but unconfirmed reports of increasing rebel activity in the mountains of Cuba, there were growing indications today the Castro regime may be quietly mobilizing anti-invasion defenses again.

The controlled press and radio maintained a blackout on reports from the United States that exiled Cuban liberation forces are grooming for an invasion of this Caribbean island.

But though Prime Minister Fidel Castro has not given a public invasion alert, the atmosphere was more tense than at any time in the history of the two-year old revolutionary government.

Travelers and other sources reported particularly heavy government troop movements in three provinces: Westernmost Pinar Del Rio, eastern Oriente and in central Las Villas, whose northern coastal keys are 140 miles from anti-Castro forces in Florida.

Militiamen were reported digging trenches along the north coast highway from Havana east to Matanzas and along the southern coast of Pinar del Rio.

The government radio however, reported welcoming parties for militiamen returning home after "smashing counter-revolutionary worms" in the Escambray Mountains of Las Villas.

Reports Reds Have a Man Out in Space

MOSCOW (AP) — Moscow's officialdom is keeping a tight lip to Western newsmen, at least concerning widespread rumors that the Soviet Union has launched a man into space.

A Foreign Ministry spokesman said late Monday night he had no information on reports Soviet scientists were expected momentarily to announce they had won the astronaut race.

"When there is such information," the spokesman said, "you will hear about it on the radio and see it in the newspapers."

Communist newsmen, who have news sources closer to top officials than do most Westerners, acted as if a big announcement was expected. They apparently had been advised to stay close to their radios and telephones.

A Soviet television crew set up a half-ton of equipment in front of the Central Telegraph Office, as if to film newsmen rushing to transmit an important story. But after two hours they packed up and left.

The Soviet Union, like the United States, has been training astronauts for more than two years. Recently the press has been full of articles about the problems of space flight.

Cities Examine Gas Company's Tax Proposal

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — City attorneys of El Dorado and Pine Bluff today cross examined officials of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. about the company's proposal to increase municipal tax payments in connection with a raise in its minimum service charge.

This was the second phase of a hearing before the Public Service Commission. The company presented its case for the double-barreled proposal at a hearing last month.

Ark La is seeking to rewrite the formula under which it pays municipal taxes to set a rate of $2 per meter for most larger cities and $1 per meter for other cities.

It also wants to increase the minimum bill from $1.10 to $1.80. The minimum bill includes the first 1,000 cubic feet of gas and the rate change would have the effect of raising gas bills of most Arkansas consumers by 70 cents a month.

PSC officials said this would bring Ark La $1.2 million more a year. It proposes to pay about

Sheriff Is Convinced About Lion

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — If Johnson County Sheriff Arnold had any doubts about the fact that there is a lion in his county, they were dispelled Monday night.

Arnold was driving along state Highway 103, three miles north-west of here, when his deputy, Duane Steele, shouted, "Look at that!"

Beside the road, a huge, reddish animal with long tail and cat-like face was bounding, leaping through the brush.

"There's the animal!" Arnold shouted, and stopped the car. The officers jumped out and grabbed their pistols, but the lion had bounded away into dark woods. They didn't even get a shot.

It was the first time either of the officers had seen the lion, although they had investigated many of the reports of others who had claimed to have seen it.

"It was the largest animal I've ever seen in the woods," Steele said, "much larger than any big dog I ever saw."

The lion has appeared several times near Clarksville in the past few weeks. Several hunts have been conducted and one farmer got a shot at the beast and missed.

The lion's tracks were reported Sunday by a farmer at Ozone, 15 miles north of here.

Arnold and Steele didn't pursue the lion into the woods.

Judgments Awarded in Two Cases

A Hempstead Circuit Court jury awarded Mrs. Rosa Powell $3,500 yesterday in connection with the accidental death Sept. 11, 1959 of her son, Dempsey Powell.

Glen Park, administrator of the Dempsey Powell estate and Mrs. Powell, filed the personal damage suit against H. B. Gardner of Dierks, driver of an auto involved in the death of Mr. Powell.

The verdict also awarded $747 to the estate less 44 per cent for negligence attributed to the condition of Dempsey Powell at the time of the accident.

The case of J. E. Stanley and Mrs. Mattie Mae Formby, of Palmers, vs. Arkansas Best Freight Lines was settled. The suit resulted from an automobile accident June 9, 1960. The plaintiffs sought compensation for personal injuries. In trial before the court Mrs. Mattie Formby was awarded judgment for $4,000 and J. E. Stanley was awarded $2,000.

Stolen Car Is Found Burned

RECTOR, Ark. (AP) — A new automobile, reported stolen from Hayti, Mo., was burned near this north Arkansas town early today, Clay County Deputy Sheriff Joe Largent said the car apparently was set on fire.

Largent said the 1961 model automobile, with a Missouri license, was reported stolen Monday night from Emmett Lee of Hayti. It was found sitting upright and in flames on a gravel road about a half-mile south of Highway 90.

Reds Accept West Test Proposal

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union accepted today a Western offer for an equal number of Communist and Western members on a control commission to police any ban on nuclear weapons tests.

This idea of parity — long a Soviet goal — had been linked by the West to getting Moscow's agreement on a test ban that would provide for inspection demanded by the West. But the Soviets tried to separate the parity offer from the rest of the Western test plan. U. S. and British negotiators refused to accept this.

The parity offer was part of a Western compromise plan for the control of a test ban treaty.

Policy Fuss Over Cuban Refugees

NEW YORK (AP) — A sharp policy dispute is going on within the Kennedy administration "about how far to go in helping the Cuban refugees to overthrow the Castro government," the New York Times reported today.

The Times, which reported the dispute in a Washington dispatch, said it has been going on "at the very top of the government" for two weeks.

The story also said in part: President Kennedy has been receiving conflicting advice from his principal advisers in the White House, the Central Intelligence Agency and the State and Defense departments.

Some officials are urging the President to provide enough military and economic assistance to enable the refugees to establish effective control over at least part of Cuba.

It is understood, however, that the State Department is worried about the political and military consequences in the hemisphere and elsewhere of providing military force to achieve political ends.

Spring Hill Girl Wins Albums

Miss Judy Smith, Route 1, Hope, has been chosen winner of a set of four Mercury L.P. record albums in the 3rd annual Kroger-Westinghouse search for the Junior Cook of the Year, it was announced today by H. S. Haten, vice president of the Childs Big Chain division of the Kroger Co.

Judy's winning recipe is a dessert called "Fresh Apple Cake and Filling." Since she entered as a representative of her home economics class at Spring Hill High School, awards of Westinghouse appliances will also go to the school and to her teacher, Mrs. Shirley Hickman.

The recipe contest is the only program of its scope for boys and girls from 12 through 19. It is sponsored by the two companies to help develop interest in good nutrition and imaginative cooking among teenagers. More than 2,000 awards are made in the contest annually.

A Language Book for Grade 5, written by Mrs. Phoebe M. Perkins of Hope and Lloyd H. Taylor of Texas has been published by The Steck Company of Austin, Texas and is now on the market.

Floyd L. Brantley, publishing house representative who lives at Arkadelphia, brought the book to Hope yesterday and sold more than 100 copies in only a few hours.

Mrs. Perkins is working on similar books through the 8th grade and they will be published by the Steck firm.

This particular work text book will go with any 5th grade book or will stand alone.

Mrs. Perkins has been an English instructor in the Hope School system for many years.

Mrs. Hazel Prichard, first vice president of the Arkansas Library Association and Hempstead-Nevada County Regional librarian, is attending a statewide workshop for trustees and librarians in Arkansas, now in progress at the Sam Peck Hotel, Little Rock.

WILL CHALLENGE COURT'S JURISDICTION — Robert Servatius, Adolf Eichmann's lawyer, leaves Beth Ha'am community center in Jerusalem, Israel, after visiting his client. Servatius indicated he will challenge a Jerusalem court's jurisdiction on grounds that the state of Israel did not exist when Eichmann allegedly committed his crimes against the Jews and that Eichmann was illegally kidnapped and carried by plane to Israel. Eichmann, who is accused of murdering millions of Jews during World War II is now on trial.

Rand Jury Completion Expected

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Selection of a jury is expected to be completed today in the second murder trial of Mrs. Virginia Rand of Rogers, 40, accused in the bedroom slaying of I.L.V. (Buddy) Clark, a Rogers restaurant owner.

The trial, moved here from Bentonville on a change of venue, began Monday before Circuit Judge Maupin Cummings in Washington Circuit Court. Cummings also heard the first trial in which Mrs. Rand was convicted of second degree murder and sentenced to eight years in prison. The Arkansas Supreme Court overturned the conviction.

Ten men were tentatively selected for the jury Monday and a special jury of 35 persons was ordered to appear today because only a few members of the regular panel were left after the first day's work.

The Supreme Court said it overturned the conviction because of improper evidence allowed at the trial. The prosecution contended that Clark, slain in Mrs. Rand's bedroom in August, 1959, was shot because he was trying to break off a love affair with Mrs. Rand, mother of two children.

The defense claimed that Clark broke into the Rand house while her husband, J.O. Rand, was away, and was shot when he refused to leave. Mrs. Rand did not testify.

After the Supreme Court decision reversing the conviction, Mrs. Rand's attorneys tried unsuccessfully in Benton Circuit Court and in U.S. District Court at Fort Smith to block a second trial. Then they obtained the change of venue.

They said their client could not get a fair trial in Benton County.

Bulletin

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The U.S. Weather Bureau today issued the following severe weather forecast:

"Thunderstorm activity forecast to develop over Oklahoma and central Texas this afternoon is expected to be severe with several tornadoes and scattered damaging wind and hailstorms in an area along and 60 miles either side of a line from Dallas, Tex., to Fayetteville, Ark., from 2 p.m. until 8 p.m. today.

"Counties included in Arkansas are: Benton, Washington, Madison, Crawford, Franklin, Johnson, Sebastian, Logan, Scott and Pope."

Fish Pond Treatment Is Advised

Farmers expecting to grow the maximum pounds of fish in stock ponds should have their pond water checked for acidity. Fish do best if the pH range is between 6.8 and 8.2.

If the pH is above 8.2, add sulfate and ammonia to correct acidity. If pH is below 6.8, add lime. If you wish to check pond water take a sample of the water in a clean small bottle and bring it to the Soil Conservation Office and we will send it to be tested.

The growing period of broam is from February to June and the growing period for bass is from June to November, so your pond should be well fertilized from February to November. It will take several applications of fertilizer to last through this period of time. A simple way to test is to apply 4-2-2 fertilizer and in about two weeks after the application if you can see a dime in one foot of water apply more fertilizer and check again.

Owners of large ponds or lakes may want to buy ammonia nitrate, super-phosphate and potash not mixed, because of the cost. It will mix itself in water.

To keep your pond in balance in relation to bass and broam, catch 5 pounds of broam for every pound of bass. Example, if you catch ten 3 pound bass in a season, that same season you need to catch 150 pounds of broam.

If ponds are not fished in this percentage, they are likely to have too many broam for bass to reproduce.

If you are a bass fisher and do not like to fish for broam, place traps to catch broam. Any additional information needed call or contact George F. Brown of Soil Conservation Service.

Good Fruit Crops in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Good fruit crops are in prospect for Arkansas, but wet weather has delayed planting of cotton and other crops, the Arkansas Crop Reporting Service said today.

Miles McPeck, statistician for the service, said the outlook is for good apple, peach, grape and strawberry crops despite some cold weather damage to strawberries.

He said land preparation for cotton planting is far behind schedule because of wet fields. Weather also has delayed planting of rice and soybeans, he said. The wet weather has promoted growth of hay crops and pastures, however.

Late frosts and freezes damaged some blooms in northwest Arkansas and cool weather has slowed growth of berries in more southerly areas, he said. Strawberry picking is expected to begin in the Bald Knob area about April 25.

Will Launch the Arkansas Future Series

The "Arkansas Future" series, an informal discussion program newly designed to explore Arkansas' progress potential in the 1960's, will be launched May 1, according to Calvin J. Caldwell.

Central aim of the four-week, state-wide program, Mr. Caldwell said, is to stress the importance of each individual Arkansan's belief in the future of himself, his family and state.

Discussion groups are made up of friends, neighbors and family and are organized and run by themselves with only a basic framework of economic and social facts to stimulate their conversations.

The series will run from May 1 through the week of May 22, 1961, co-ordinated by the Agricultural Extension Service with the aid of interested civic organizations, agencies, libraries and others. Discussion topics are: Arkansas Today, May 1; A Changing Arkansas, May 8; A Developing Arkansas, May 15; and Arkansas' Future, May 22.

For each of these topics Mr. Caldwell explained, there is a fact sheet on which small groups of five to ten persons can base their discussions over a four-week period.

The fact sheets present background information in an objective, non-partisan manner. It is not intended that groups will arrive at group conclusions or decisions. The sole purpose of this program is strictly educational in that it provides people with the facts on which they can draw their own individual conclusions.

The discussion groups operate on their own. Each organizes itself and carries on its own discussion sessions without outside assistance or formal discussion leader.

Such informal, self-administered discussion groups meeting in the homes of friends and neighbors and talking over issues in the American way have proved effective. It is a proven method of acquainting large numbers of people with the facts on public issues so that they may arrive at their own independent and individual decisions, Mr. Caldwell said.

Taking part in an "Arkansas Future" program is simple. Only one interested person is needed to give five to ten of his friends to form a discussion group. Each person then obtains a set of the "Arkansas Future" fact sheets from the county Extension office. Each group sets up its own schedule of weekly meetings and then carries on by itself with members studying the fact sheet ahead of time for the following week's discussion topic.

The fact sheets alone, however, are not the only source of information for the discussion groups, Caldwell said. Each set of fact sheets contains a bibliography of supplementary reading material and, of course, members are free to read other materials from any source when they feel will be useful in their discussion sessions.

The "Arkansas Future" program offers every resident of Hempstead county an opportunity to become better acquainted with the facts on leading issues in Arkansas public affairs, said County Agent Calvin J. Caldwell. We welcome all interested persons to become participants in this educational effort.

A folder, "You and Arkansas' Future," explains the entire program and is available at your county Extension office.

Adolf Eichmann to Trial for Killing Millions

By RELMAN MORIN

JERUSALEM (AP) — Sitting impassively today in his bullet-proof dock, Adolf Eichmann heard his attorney challenge the right of the Israeli government to bring him here for trial as an arch-prosecutor of Jews.

Then he listened attentively as the government's attorney general responded that such arguments are irrelevant to the basic legality of this nation's action in bringing him to justice.

The first day's session of the Eichmann trial thus ended with the justices considering the arguments of counsel.

Eichmann's chief counsel, pudgy and gray-haired Dr. Robert Servatius of West Germany, challenged the jurisdiction of the special court trying the bald German. He also put into question the 1950 Israeli law under which Eichmann faces a possible death penalty, and the circumstances under which he was spirited from Argentina last May.

As Servatius put it, the defendant before the three German-born judges was simply a tool of the Nazi leaders who ordered the killing of millions of Jews in the infamous World War II purge that ended only 16 years ago this spring.

But Israel's attorney general, Gideon Hausner, presented another viewpoint. He challenged Servatius' contention that Eichmann can get no fair trial here. "If there are judges in the whole world who could be impartial about this crime, they are not fit to be judges," he said.

"Adolf Eichmann is here before you legally by an order for his arrest legally issued. The circumstances under which he was brought to this court are not matters for this court to discuss. They are irrelevant."

The only relevant matter before the court, Hausner argued, is "the charge of crimes against humanity for which Eichmann is charged."

The arguments about the legality of the case were still going on at 6:45 p.m. when the court recessed until Wednesday.

The day had begun at 9 a.m. when Eichmann came into the prisoner's dock and stood stiff-backed and impassive as he heard the reading of the government's indictment.

It was the first time in 2,000 years that a man accused of inflicting suffering and death on the Jews was brought to judgment in a Jewish court.

It took 70 minutes for the indictment to be read by the president of the court, Justice Moshe Landau of the Israeli Supreme Court.

Vote Machine Can't Meet Requirements

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court has ruled that voting machines are legal in Arkansas if they keep records as to how each person voted. But apparently no machines are made that way.

Mrs. John Reid of Little Rock, state legislative chairman of the American Association of University Women, said Monday after the court ruling that neither of the two major voting machine companies produce such machines.

She quoted an official of one company as saying manufacture of machines that kept records as to how each person voted would violate the company principle of guaranteeing a secret ballot.

The court said the Arkansas Constitution does not prohibit voting machines, but it does provide that election officials must be able to produce records of how each person voted if an election is contested.

The City of Little Rock, which filed the suit in an attempt to get voting machines legalized, said a Supreme Court rehearing would be asked within 10 days.

$80,000 more a year in city taxes. James Spencer Jr., El Dorado city attorney, questioned Lindsey Hatchett, an Ark La vice president, vigorously about the company's income for the past year. Spencer charged that the firm would have earned about 7 percent on its investment if it had not adjusted its actual income downward because of weather conditions.

The company reported income of 3.54 per cent and it said the income would be only 4.57 per cent after the rate increase went into effect.

"We've had to clamp down on every phase of our operations to meet increased expenses," Hatchett said.

Spencer opened his questioning by stating that El Dorado was more concerned about "this back door increase in rates than we are in increased city taxes."

George Holmes, Pine Bluff city attorney, asked a few questions, but Spencer handled most of the examination.

Mayor Lloyd McCullum and City Atty. William C. Daviss of Stuttgart were in the PSC hearing room, but did not take part in the early questioning.

The Ark La chart of proposed municipal taxes would give El Dorado an increase of $6,454 a year and Pine Bluff an increase of $6,228. Stuttgart's income would be cut $6,763.

The current schedule of municipal taxes is as follows:

Court. The atmosphere was electric with drama as the crimes laid to the 55-year-old defendant were itemized.

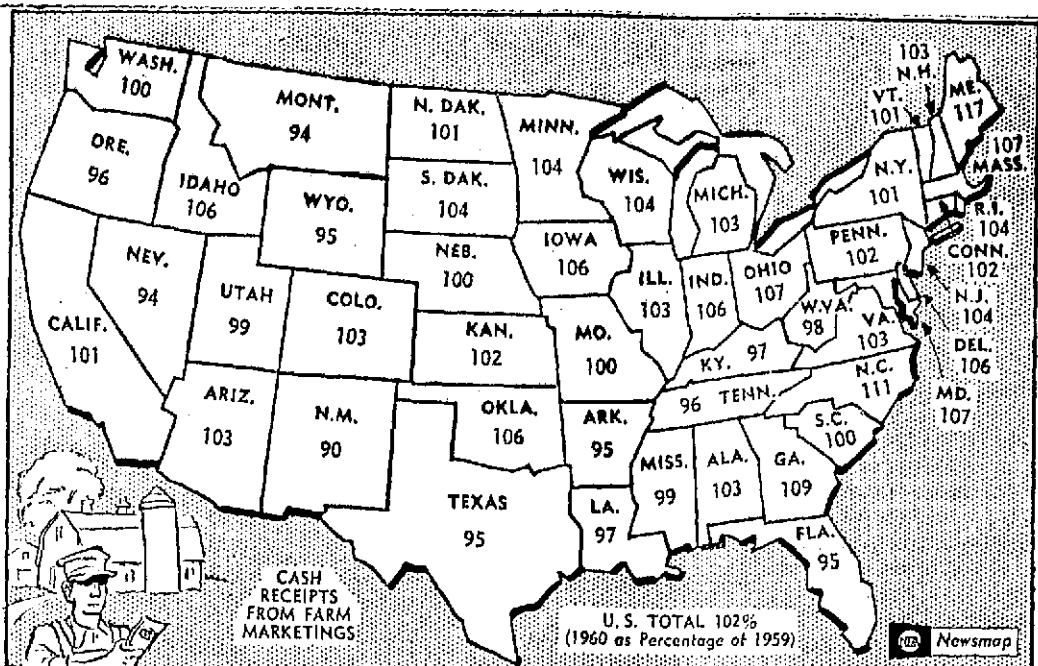

Israel accuses Eichmann of "crimes against the Jewish people and crimes against humanity." The indictment asserts that he bears direct responsibility for the slaying of millions of Jews, that he caused others "degradation...deportation...deprivation...and inhuman torture and suffering."

Israel has abolished capital punishment except for crimes against humanity under the 1950 law. On 12 of the 15 counts against Eichmann, the maximum penalty is death.

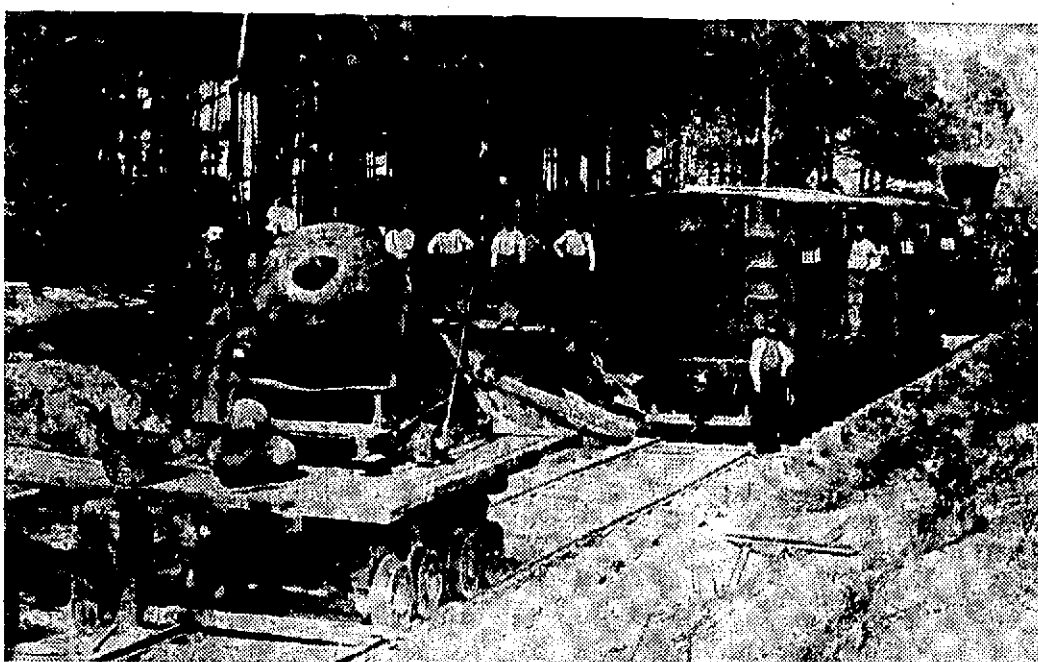

Eichmann, as chief of the Jewish Affairs Section of the Nazi Gestapo during the war, is accused of direct responsibility for the catastrophe visited on the Jews.

He stood in the dock—shielded from the audience by sheets of bulletproof glass—stony-faced and motionless as a statue.

Future Homemakers Observing National Week

The week of April 15 has been designated as National Future Homemakers of America Week. In observance of this special week the Prescott High Chapter, F.H.A., will attempt to inform the general public of the particular values of the home-making program to the school, home and community.

In carrying out this idea the chapter has designated certain days throughout the week for special events. Sunday, April 9 was Go to Church Day. The executive board composed of Louise Stewart, Judy Cornelius, Martha Bolls, Phoebe Jones, Dorothy Cook, Juan Lewis, Bonnie Harris, Nancy Brant and their advisor, Mrs. Frank Haltom Jr., attended services at the First Baptist Church and each F.H.A. attended the choice of her church on that day.

Monday, April 10, was Publicity Day. Posters on F.H.A. work were displayed and there was a radio program over KTPA.

Judy Cornelius, state historian

of the Future Homemakers

of America, attended an FHA meeting on Friday on the Arkansas Tech campus at Russellville.

Mrs. Gordon Danner left Friday for Garland, Texas to spend several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Paul Ray Hamric and family.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Delaney have recently returned from Dallas, Texas where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Harris.

Brozie Haynie was a Friday visitor in Camden.

Jim McKenzie, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. McKenzie and a sophomore at the University of Arkansas, has been named intramural manager of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, social fraternity, for the 1961-62 academic year. He is a student in the College of Business Administration.

Boom Hurts Supersonic Air Travel

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Supersonic commercial air travel will not be feasible until somebody finds out how to do away with the sonic boom. C. R. Smith, president of American Airlines, said Monday.

"Suppose you had a large supersonic transport that flew non-stop from coast to coast at night," Smith said. "You'd probably wake up 15 million people across the country."

He spoke to the Little Rock Sales Executives Club. He said supersonic planes probably would have to fly at an altitude of 60,000 to 70,000 feet and their use would have to be limited to flights of more than 2,500 miles, mostly coast-to-coast and trans-oceanic hopes.

He was skeptical of claims in Washington that supersonic airlines travel would be accomplished in 10 years. He said commercial airlines will have to concentrate on development of pure jets—those under 640 miles per hour—until supersonic planes are ready for production.

Smith said the pure jet is the most reliable and safest engine yet. He set no one has lost a pure jet in the U.S. since they went into use. The only commercial disasters in planes using jet fuel have been with the turbo-jets.

He said the commercial air transport industry has made vast improvements in its planes since World War II, and new refinements are upcoming.

Between 1930 and 1935, the number of cattle in Miller county doubled and the number of hogs increased 50 percent.

Vote Sought on Railway Law

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A newly-organized attorneys group has announced it will back an effort to get a popular vote on a 1961 act which repealed an old law requiring railway train crewmen to keep a lookout for persons and property on the tracks.

The organization is the Arkansas Trial Lawyers Association. Lt. Gov. Nathan Gordon of Morrilton is president; state Sen. Jack Yates of Ozark, vice president, and Dale Price of Little Rock, secretary-treasurer.

Repeal of the lookout law developed into a heated issue in the recent legislative session. Little Rock attorneys Tom Gentry and James L. Sloan have announced they will circulate petitions to refer the new act to a popular vote at the 1962 general election.

While the repeal bill was pending in the Senate, Gordon made a rare floor appearance to oppose it. Yates was another opponent.

Proponents claimed its only effect would be to put railroads on a par with other litigants in damage suits.

Sheriff of Pope County Dies

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Pope County Sheriff Bob Rankin, 58, died Monday at his home after a long illness.

The funeral will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at Wesley Methodist Church. Burial will be in Pisgah Cemetery near here.

Rankin, a native of Appleton, Pope County, was serving his second term.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus will appoint a successor to serve out remainder of the present term.

Before becoming sheriff, Rankin was associated for several years with an oil company here.

Survivors include his widow and two sons.

Veterinarian Dies at Hot Springs

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Dr. Oval Henry Meinecke, 43, the 1960 "Veterinarian of the Year" in Arkansas, died Monday at a hospital here.

He was a past president of the Arkansas Veterinarian Association.

WILL POOR EDUCATION BE OUR DOWNFALL?

The future of any nation depends upon the education—and particularly the higher education—of its people. Yet right now many of our colleges are overcrowded and in ten years time we can face a major crisis. By then we will need thousands of additional top-quality college professors. We'll also need more classrooms, libraries, and well-equipped laboratories.

Let's help our country by helping our colleges. Give generously to the college of your choice.

Hope, Arkansas

"Dear sir:

"Seeing the trucks and automobiles at Third and Shover streets last week, while their owners were being supplied with surplus commodities, reminded me of a saying of Will Rogers. Will said, 'This is the only country in the world where people drive to the poor house in an automobile.' After all, they may have needed them, as the County Judge instructions were to bring big sacks."

"In the early days of the FEHA (Federal Emergency Relief Administration) any one with the gall and the nerve (bankers and the like excepted) could back up to the dispensaries and drive away with a month's supply of groceries. Then the politicians took over. Eligibility ceased to be based on need and who you were but rather on who you knew."

"Cynical and unsympathetic," you say. No, not at all. Cynical, perhaps, but not unsympathetic. I have a genuine sympathy for those people who through no fault of their own, are in want. But I do hope that the number of 'free-loaders' is held to a reasonable percentage of the total of those needing help."

Yours very truly,
Chas. O. Thomas

State Vote to Redistrict Is Petitioned

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A southeast Arkansas group trying to get the 1961 congressional redistricting act referred to a popular vote will kick off a campaign for 30,000 petition signatures Thursday night in Pine Bluff.

A public meeting is scheduled at the Jefferson County Courthouse to open the drive, said Rep. G.W. Smith Jr. of Star City, chairman of the group.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Thorpe Thomas Monday approved the ballot title the group has drafted but required that the petition circulators add a paragraph to their document specifying that signers are merely indicating a desire to refer the measure to the people, and are not indicating approval or disapproval of the measure itself.

The group must get 25,340 signatures to get the question on the 1962 general election ballot. Smith said they hope to get 30,000.

The group's purpose is to suspend effectiveness of the act until it is voted on. This would mean that all congressional candidates would have to run at large in 1962 instead of by districts.

The act was passed by the 1961 Legislature. It reduces the number of congressional districts from six to four because of the loss of two House seats. And it puts Jefferson, Lincoln and Arkansas counties into the First District, which is composed mainly of northeast Arkansas counties.

The counties have indicated that they want to be in the southern district. Smith and the Jefferson County legislative delegation fought the redistricting bill but it passed by an overwhelming majority.

Pure Speculation

LONDON (AP) — The U.S. Air Force said today published reports that certain bases in Britain will be closed by presidential order are pure speculation.

Warns of Communism in Future

CHICAGO (AP)—Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, U.S. chief of naval operations, said today totalitarian communism may conquer the world because of what he termed traditional Yankee optimism.

Burke said an optimistic refusal to acknowledge the extent of the Communist threat, and a preoccupation with the military aspect of the struggle has caused many Americans to "fool themselves that there is no threat."

The Communists, he said, "hope that our own indifference, our own apathy, our own preoccupation with material things will in themselves weaken the ideas and the ideals they seek to destroy."

Burke, speaking at the seventh annual National Military-Industrial and Education Conference, said "Americans are naturally optimistic."

He said Americans "often tend to indulge in wishful thinking. And when faced with stern realities, Americans often have a nostalgia for the good old days."

Many recognize the urgency of the Communist threat, he said, "but there remain many others in private life in our affluent society who are so self-satisfied, so comfortable, so content that they cannot be bothered with the dangers which surround them."

Burke said many nations have fallen to conquerors because their "citizens were self-satisfied, placid, self-confident, money-getting, pleasure-loving people, honoring success and hugging their financial security."

The nation's military strength must be maintained, he said, but "national security is based on courage, not on money nor on material wealth, nor on military power."

Fall Fatal to Railway Worker

OZARK, Ark. (AP) — J. N. Wright, 57, of Ozark, Missouri Pacific Lines section foreman, died Monday after suffering a broken neck in a fall down a 30-foot bluff above the tracks here.

Wright, a Mo-Pac employe for 40 years, had been helping a crew set a charge of dynamite to remove hazardous rock from the bluff on the south side of Highland Cemetery.

Says U.S. to Strengthen NATO Forces

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy pledged today the United States will strengthen its conventional military forces in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and also maintain an effective nuclear weapons capability.

In apparent response to stated fears that nuclear war might be set off unnecessarily by trigger-happy response to small-scale aggression, the President stressed U.S. determination to keep all its own forces under high command control at all times.

The aim, Kennedy said, is to make deterrent strength "do what we wish, neither more nor less."

Kennedy made his pledges in an address prepared for a meeting of the NATO military committee.

"NATO needs to be able to respond to any conventional attack with conventional resistance which will be effective at least long enough, in Gen. Norstad's phrase, to force a pause," Kennedy said.

He was referring to Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme commander of NATO forces in Europe.

"To this end," the President said, "we ourselves mean to maintain our own divisions and supporting units in Europe and to increase their conventional capabilities."

Kennedy made no specific mention of differences within NATO over control and use of nuclear weapons. France, for example, has wanted a bigger voice in this field.

One Wreck Is Fatal to Three

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP)—Three persons were killed in a four-car accident on a rain-slick railroad overpass here late Saturday night.

The dead were Cecil Jordan, 47, and his wife, Helen, 33, of Memphis, and Alton Rushing, 34, of West Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. Jordan were killed instantly and Rushing died about an hour later at a Memphis hospital.

Arkansas State Police said Rushing's automobile jumped a dividing strip and collided with the Jordan automobile, driven by Mrs. Jordan.

The Jordan car was hurled into a car driven by Gerald Smith, 19, of West Memphis. Smith's car was knocked into a fourth car, driven by Carl L. Shaw, 26, of Baton Rouge, La.

Shaw and Smith escaped injury as did Ruth Baker, 16, of Memphis, a passenger in Smith's automobile.

The scene of the accident is on U.S. Highway 70 near the Memphis-Arkansas bridge.

Will Visit U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The presidents of Peru and Ecuador have accepted President Kennedy's invitation to visit the United States.

President Manuel Prado of Peru will arrive Sept. 19. President Jose Maria Velasco Ibarra of Ecuador will begin his visit Oct. 24, subject to circumstances in Ecuador at that time.

Kennedy said Macmillan had pointed out the urgency of this control matter.

"The United States," Kennedy pledged, "means to do its full share in working toward a good solution of the problem, and we believe that the clarity and firmness of our own commitment to the full defense of Europe can be helpful in this direction."

Anti-Castro Pilots Go Into Training

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—More than 35 anti-Castro airplane pilots were reported headed for a secret training camp today to heed a call by the Cuban Revolutionary Council for a "second war of liberation."

The pilots, including some formerly associated with Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista, reportedly left Miami Sunday for a secret training camp, probably in Central America.

Family members and friends said the men were stripped of their clothing and identification, given uniforms and told to say their goodbyes before being spirited out of the United States.

It was the first time so-called "Batistianos" were reported to have joined forces against Prime Minister Fidel Castro. Those with Batista ties previously had been excluded from major revolutionary organizations.

The call for a "second war of liberation" was sounded by Dr. Jose Miro Cardona, president of the anti-Castro Cuban Revolutionary Council in New York. He said his country is occupied by "a foreign army at the service of those who betrayed the revolution."

Miro Cardona refused to discuss any timetable for possible landings on Cuban soil or strength of the invasion forces. He said when these forces become active inside Cuba they will number six million, embracing "all of Cuba."

Reports from Havana said government-controlled radio stations and newspapers ignored Miro Cardona's call.

In a nationwide TV talk Sunday, Castro repeated earlier warnings that insurgent bands and expeditionary forces invading Cuba would be liquidated. He did not refer directly to the latest call to arms against his regime.

Three Little Girls Ask Meaning of Love

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I would appreciate it very much if you could tell me what you think the meaning of love is. Three of us, all 15 and a half years old, are confused. — L. C., D. T. and D. D.

Dear Girls: To define love is like dissecting a butterfly's wing. So few are yet agreed upon what love is or should be.

If you are taking about love between man and woman, sex is unquestionably a factor, yet sex alone should not be confused with love. Some would have us believe that out of sex may grow spiritual love. Others, whom I prefer to follow, agree that true love is a combination of the desires of the body and the yearnings of the soul. Without one or the other, it would not be complete love.

Dear Helen: I am 16 and engaged to a man 34 who is divorced and has six children. He loves me. My only problem is his oldest son, a year older than I, who resents me and does everything possible to make me and his father miserable. I don't want to come between them. What shall I do? —Faithful Readers

Dear Faithful Reader: The problem is not the oldest son but, the complicated situation you voluntarily walk into by engaging yourself to a divorced man twice your age and the father of six children! Walk out of it as quickly as you walked into it, unless you're asking for trouble.

Dear Helen: Last summer I met a boy 19. I am 14. He asked me to go steady. I agreed. Then he went back to college. We wrote to each other every day. Now I have just received a letter from him telling me of his engagement to a classmate. However, he wishes to carry on our correspondence in case his engagement doesn't work out. Should I continue to write? I still like him. —Wondering

Dear Wondering: Where's your pride? If you want the boy back, which I take it you do, give him the silent treatment. But, at 14, you shouldn't be taking any boy seriously. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my letter. "What Age for Dating?"

Send your problems to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper.

"Somewhere around midnight, Ace MacSwain was beat to death with a rock. Also, his pockets were cleaned. Now this I know. Since arriving in Midas Hill he won a pretty considerable amount from you over Scotty Deale's poker table, a fact which plainly hasn't set well with you. I know, too, that you're more than passably well known in some of the toughest deadfalls on Ute Street. Yes, you're well acquainted along the Gulch. So, everything considered, it's not too hard to suspect possible motive on your part—even some degree of hand in the killing. Well?"

Speaking, Waddell held Ringgold with a steady stare, searching for betraying reaction. He saw immediately he'd gain nothing here. For there was no mistaking the very real flare of surprise that showed in Ringgold's pale eyes.

"News to me," Ringgold said.

Upstreet at the Palace, the doors were also wide and Scotty Deale was industrious there with a broom. He paused in his labors as Waddell strode up.

"Every time it's a new day and I see you still around, I got to wonder about it," Scotty remarked. "You're tougher than I thought." Shrewdly he added, "Right now, though, there's a dark look to you."

"The news," said Waddell succinctly, "isn't good. You haven't heard about Ace MacSwain?"

Scotty straightened, leaned on his broom. "No. What about him?"

Waddell told him, and in turn shock, then slow anger swept across Scotty's face. Scotty Deale was a thoroughly practical soul, with little gifts of sentiment. He shook his head gloomily.

"I liked the man. He was all right."

"What time did he leave here last night?" Waddell asked.

Scotty considered a moment. "Some earlier than usual. Business was slow. Only Ace and Hume and Garrison sat in on the usual game. Ringgold never showed. The poker game broke up early, right after 11. So I closed up. That was when MacSwain left."

"Nobody else was around?" Waddell probed.

"Nobody," Scotty said.

Waddell tramped over to the office. He put Ace MacSwain's grip-sack on the desk and was settling back for a cigarette when a step at the door brought him to his feet to face Norma Vespasian.

"I was on my way to work and something told me you were carrying an extra load of trouble. What is it, Chris? The Spooners again? I wouldn't want them out after you because of me—of that—that affair last evening when—when—" She flushed and her words ran out.

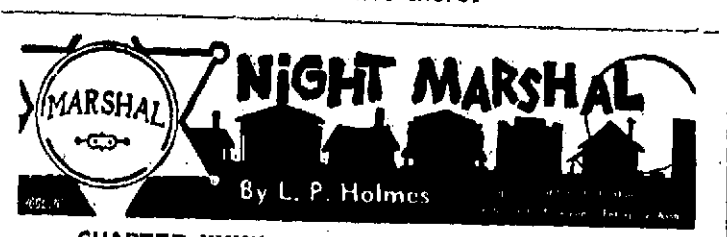

"No part of that at all," he assured her quickly. "This is something else. I may as well tell you, for the word is bound to get around. A man was killed last night, and robbed. A good man. A friend of mine. Ace MacSwain, a gambler, but a square one. He was beaten to death."

Piggybacking Idles Drivers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Teamsters Union members were told Sunday that piggybacking—carrying truck trailers on railroad flatcars—has driven 280 truck drivers out of Arkansas in the last two years.

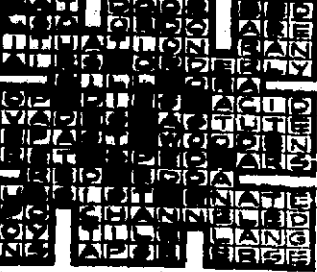

The teamsters gathered to hear a nationwide telephone speech by union president Jimmy Hoffa. Odell Smith, business agent and president of Local 878, followed up with how piggybacking affected Arkansas.

Smith said loss of auto transport traffic in the state closed up plants at Texarkana and Memphis. "One hundred to two hundred drivers used to stay over in Arkansas every night and now we don't have a car hauler in this state," he added.

Smith urged union members to write their congressmen, especially Rep. Oren Harris of El Dor

Baseball Opens Season on All Fronts Today

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The 1961 major league baseball season opens today on all fronts following Monday's sneak preview in the nation's capital where the Chicago White Sox downed the Washington Senators 4-3.

Weather permitting, all eight National League teams and the rest of the 10-city American League circuit, after a month of preliminaries, begin their long battle for championship honors.

In the National League, St. Louis opens at Milwaukee, Chicago at Cincinnati, Pittsburgh at San Francisco and Philadelphia at Los Angeles. All are daylight affairs except in Los Angeles, which plays nearly all its games at night. In the American, Minnesota is at New York, Los Angeles at Baltimore, Kansas City at Boston and Cleveland at Detroit. Chicago and Washington have a day off.

More than the usual problems confront the majors this year because of the American League's bold expansion from eight to 10 clubs. The National, committed to add New York and Houston next year, undoubtedly will be awaiting developments, along with millions of fans throughout the country.

In the meantime, numerous other questions await answers. Here are some of them:

- Will the New York Yankees be as successful under their new manager, Ralph Houk, as they were under Casey Stengel?
- Are the Los Angeles Dodgers' rookie phenoms — Willie Davis, Charlie Smith, Ron Perranoski, Doug Camilli — really that good?
- Have the Baltimore kids really grown up?
- Can Frank Bolling and Roy McMillan offset Milwaukee's loss of outfielder Bill Bruton and pitchers Joey Jay and Juan Pizarro?
- Are the Chicago White Sox too old?
- Can Dick Groat, last year's batting champion, most valuable player and Pittsburgh's inspirational leader, lead the Pirates to another flag?
- Will Johnny Antonelli find himself in Cleveland?
- Will Alvin Dark, San Francisco's new manager, restore teamwork among the Giants?
- Can new manager Bob Schefling shake the Detroit Tigers out of their lethargy?
- Should Stan Musial, after 20 glorious seasons with the St. Louis Cardinals, have retired?
- How much will the Boston Red Sox miss Ted Williams?
- How will the Chicago Cubs' no-manager idea work out?
- How much elastic is left in the rubber arms of ace relief pitchers Lindy McDaniel, Ernie Face, Gerry Staley, Mike Fornieles and Hoyt Wilhelm?
- Will Cleveland's explosive center field star, Jimmy Piersall, settle down?
- Will veteran pitchers Warren Spahn of Milwaukee and Early Wynn of Chicago reach their 300-victory goal this year?

CHICAGO BOAT SHOW HIT BY HIGH TIDE OF FRILLS

By WM. TAYLOR MCKEOWN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

CHICAGO (NEA)—"Is boating getting too fancy?" an old-timer asked as we toured the National Boat Show in Chicago and eyed a high tide of new nautical accessories.

Boats, he admitted, looked more like boats this year, but the gadgets that go on them get more sophisticated.

"Look at that depth finder," he pointed out with grudging admiration. "Time was, when we wanted to explore some backwater fishing hole we eased our way in by poking for the bottom with a long pole."

"Then someone invented this electronic probe for big ocean vessels. Now we have portable models running on flashlight batteries. You can carry one in any rowboat. Same with small direction finders."

Even hi-fi has come afloat. One portable AM-FM radio, with an input jack for a record player, can also be plugged in to monitor radio telephone calls and ship-to-shore broadcasts from any remote location aboard. Transistors now bring radioed weather reports to boatmen in the most remote anchorages.

We looked at some of the latest paints and sealers to keep the water outside the boat. Many now form rubber or plastic surfaces that give a choice of permanently flexible or enamel-hard coatings to hull and topsides, deck and cabin.

Convenience, has overtones of safety in a new mixing can for the outboard motor owner.

Fueling up, gasoline passes through oil in the can and is metered to combine in just the right proportion for the outboard's proper gas-oil fuel. No more need to measure out oil before gassing up—and the chance to spill gasoline or oil inside the boat.

Displays of waterproof fabrics and plastic paneling, drew our attention. I caught the old-timer casting a cold eye on some of the more flowery patterns designed to attract a feminine first mate.

"With all these expensive accessories to buy," I told him, "you probably can't afford as big a boat."

He gave me a rueful grin.

"She's bigger," he admitted.

"With these new gadgets now my wife feels safe on the water."

"Now we can take the kids along and can budget a full vacation of cruising."
